

Mumbai hospitals win big at the 'India Healthcare Awards'

'India Healthcare Awards', a joint initiative between CNBC -TV18 and ICICI Lombard recognised Bombay Hospital as the 'Multi Specialty Hospital of the Year – West' and Lilavati Hospital as the 'Best Multi-Specialty Hospital of the Year' & 'No. 1 Metro City Hospital' by 'India Healthcare Awards' at the ceremony. The award ceremony was felicitated by Dr Montek Singh Ahluwalia, Deputy Chairman, Planning Commission of India.

Commenting on the occasion, Bharatkumar Taparia, Chairman, Bombay Hospital, said, "Our management team, doctors, staff and workers are extremely honoured and humbled. This Award will further motivate us to seek higher levels of service for our patients who come from the lowest and highest strata of society. While we very much appreciate and value this award, I must state there is no such thing as a best hospital. Unlike banks and educational institutions where the grading criteria are very objective and transparent, to grade hospitals is far more complicated as the criteria are many and too complex."

On getting the recognition, Dr Narendra Trivedi, COO, Lilavati Hospital, said, "We are extremely proud to have received this recognition. Lilavati Hospital invests in state-of-the-art biomedical instruments and equipments for diagnostic and patient care."

India Healthcare Awards has become the benchmark for recognising the best healthcare facilities in India and the short listing of firms for the final round was based on a robust multi-phase methodology by IMRB, India's leading research agency.
