Workshop on Interventional and diagnostic Nephrology

Lilavati Hospital in collaboration with Mumbai Nephrology Group conducted a workshop on Interventional and diagnostic Nephrology, which was attended by over 80 doctors from across the country. Kidney failure is a problem being faced by more and more Indians each year. There is very little awareness of this disease. Lilavati Hospital has set up a special department of Interventional Nephrology whose aim is to provide the best solutions to patients suffering from kidney ailments. Dr Hemant Mehta, Nephrologist, Lilavati Hospital said "We have a team of some of India's best Nephrologists and have also started taking up very complex cases which other hospitals are not being able to treat." Dr. Mehta conducted a live surgery on permanent hemodialysis catheter insertion for the benefit of delegates. Dr Alan Almeida, Secretary, Mumbai Nephrology Group said "Our aim is to provide patients with better disease management solutions thus improving their lifestyle and increasing life expectancy." There was also a panel discussion on approach to vascular access, which consisted of some of the most well known names in the field of Nephrology.
